Required Meningitis Vaccination

Effective January 1, 2012, Senate Bill 1107 amends current Texas law requiring proof of Bacterial Meningitis vaccination 10 days before attending Spring 2012 classes for all entering students except:

- Students over 30 years of age
- Students who take only online or distance education courses
- Current students of TTUHSC or another institution of higher education before January 1, 2012 AND who have been enrolled without a break of at least one fall or spring semester
- Individuals who are dual-credit students from a Texas Independent School District
- Students enrolled in a non-credit course or program that is less than 360 contact hours, or non-credit corporate training.

Proof of vaccination (within the past 5 years) is required of all students less than 30 years, and those who have had a break in enrollment at the same institution.

About Bacterial Meningitis

Meningitis is an inflammation of the membranes that cover the brain and spinal cord. Meningitis is usually caused by a viral or bacterial infection. The severity of illness and treatment differs depending on whether it is caused by a virus or bacterium. Viral meningitis is generally less severe and clears up without specific treatment. Bacterial meningitis can be severe and may result in brain damage, hearing loss, or learning disabilities. It is also important to know what type of bacterial meningitis, because antibiotics can prevent some types from spreading and infecting other people.
