B. Fraud, Waste and Abuse in Health Care. As a health care provider, TTUHSC El Paso is required by law to provide certain information to its employees, agents and contractors regarding the federal and state false claims acts, the federal false claims and statement law, and protections for those reporting violations of these laws (i.e., whistleblower protections) – see Section II above. Under the federal law, the term “knowing or knowingly” includes actual knowledge or acting with deliberate ignorance or in reckless disregard of the truth or falsity of the information contained in the claim or statement. 31 U.S.C. §3729(b). The term “knowing” under Texas law is similar to the federal definition, except that it includes “conscious indifference” to the truth or falsity of the information instead of “deliberate ignorance”. 1. Federal False Claims and Statement Law. As summarized from 31 U.S.C. §3802, it is illegal to knowingly make, present, submit or cause to be made, presented or submitted to the federal government, a false, fictitious or fraudulent claim or written statement. This includes, but is not limited to, the omission of material facts that a person has a duty to disclose which makes the claim or statement false, fictitious or fraudulent, and submitting claims for payment of services not provided. A violation of this law can result in civil penalties of up to $5,000 per claim and possible exclusion from participation in any federal health care program, such as Medicare, Medicaid, TriCare and the Veterans Administration. Violations can also result in exclusion from federal health care programs for the organization and/or individuals.

2. Federal False Claims Act. Under 31 U.S.C. §3729(a)(7), civil penalties of between $5,500 to $11,000 per claim, plus three times the amount of any payment made by the government, can be imposed against any person who knowingly:

a) Presents a false or fraudulent claim to a federal health care payer for payment or approval;

b) Makes, or causes to be made or used a false record or statement to get a false claim paid or to avoid or decrease an obligation to pay money to the government, such as failure to refund known overpayments; or

c) Conspire to defraud the government by getting a false or fraudulent claim paid or allowed.

In addition, 31 U.S.C. §3730 allows private citizens, known as whistleblowers, to file a civil lawsuit against persons who violate this law.

3. Texas False Claims Act. The Texas law, similar to the Federal False Claims Act described above, applies to Medicaid claims and payment with civil penalties that range from $10,000 to $15,000 per false claim plus two times the amount of any payment. In addition, a person is subject to civil penalties under the Texas False Claims Act for submitting claims for payment by Medicaid for services provided by an unlicensed individual or that were not ordered by a health care provider. Similar to the Federal False Claims Act, private individuals can file a civil lawsuit against any person who violates this law. Texas Human Resources Code, Chapter 36.

XXII. The Texas Tech University System Code of Ethical Conduct

TTU System and its component institutions, TTU, TTUHSC, Angelo State University, and TTUHSC El Paso (collectively, “TTUS”) expect all members of the TTUS community to behave in a way that allows TTUS institutions to accomplish their respective missions in accordance with the principles set forth below. The following Code of Ethical Conduct (“Code”), which applies to every member of the TTUS community whether employee, student, or external constituent, is intended to support a culture and environment of honesty, integrity, fairness, transparency, conservation, ethical scholarship, diversity, and respect for others and the law. This Code applies to all aspects of your life as a member of the TTUS community.

Honesty. Be honest. Demonstrate honesty by being truthful, trustworthy, and fair.

Integrity. Act ethically. Do the right thing even if no one is watching. TTUS is committed to achieving excellence and expects a high standard of professionalism through ethical behavior.

Fairness. Be fair. Hold yourself accountable. Take personal responsibility for your actions. Before you act (or fail to act), carefully consider the consequences, both intended and unintended.

Transparency. Be transparent in all activities, including governance, operations, research, and academics. Promptly and openly identify and disclose conflicts of interest and conflicts of commitment. Take appropriate steps to either eliminate such conflicts or ensure that they do not compromise TTUS procedures and values or violate the law. Do not exploit your professional relationships or TTUS position for personal gain.

Conservation. Protect and conserve all TTUS resources, tangible and intangible – our people, our land, our property, our time, our ideas, and our ideals. Don’t disclose confidential information. Put forth your best effort to make TTUS the best it can be.

Ethical Scholarship. Don’t cheat. Embrace ethical practices with regard to the acquisition, use, and dissemination of knowledge and research. Uphold scientific standards.

Diversity. Stop seeing differences. Start seeing strengths. TTUS values cultural and intellectual diversity because it enriches our lives and the community as a whole, promoting access, equity, and excellence. Create an environment of mutual respect, appreciation, and tolerance for differing values, beliefs, and backgrounds. Do not discriminate against each other or those whom we serve, and promptly report discrimination.

Respect for Others. Treat everyone with respect and dignity. Do not infringe on the rights or personal values of others. Create an environment that is free of bullying, harassment, and retaliation, and report those who do bully, harass, or retaliate. While TTUS encourages -- and indeed expects -- the free expression of views, address differences in viewpoints in a professional and civil manner. Personal attacks on or insults of individuals have no place in the TTUS environment.

Respect for the Law. Obey the letter and spirit of the law.
